Dust: Met with a fair demand. Clean good liquoring types were readily absorbed at firm to often little dearer rates. Others were firm to little easier following quality. Poorer types were neglected. Cleaner CD's were a strong feature.

Comment: Clean good liquoring descriptions continued to attract widespread interest and sold well at firm to little dearer rates. Others met with only selective interest at firm to generally little easier rates. Poorer types proved difficult of sale. Dusts were a slightly better market especially the well made good liquoring types.
